

Official type looking document from
THE LORD OF BALLS

This is to certify that

---

is hereby granted the ability to be a stand by Lord of Balls in case the Lord himself is not around. This entitles the bearer to tell jokes, be ridiculous, speak well of funny looking people, wear a wig in public and get a free drink. Does not include the option to have tea with the Queen, unless she really wants you there.

This certificate is not to be used as a high school diploma, drivers license or paper airplane. Lordships are forever but the free drink thing expires when we feel like it.